Artist's statement:

Sleeping has for a long time been one of my issues. I wondered why people sleep for hours.

We barely know anything about what happens when we are sleeping.

The thinking ended up that we might be practicing death from sleeping.

In a way, we live a day, and we die every night.

However, another world exists there.

We explore the imaginary world every night.

Annyeong is a Korean word which is used for greeting everyday,
but at the same time, it means peaceful.

I wish you being in peace.
